

Senior Center Eco-Friendly Paint

In 2021, the City of Corning painted the exterior of the Senior Citizens Center with eco-friendly paint. Eco-friendly paint, or natural paint, is paint that has been specially designed to have lower levels of Volatile Organic Chemicals (VOCs). According to the Environmental Protection Agency, VOCs may have short- and longer-term adverse health effects. Workers applying paint can contain expose themselves to these organic chemicals, and elevated concentrations can persist in the air long after the painting activity is completed.
